THE YELLOW FEVER.

Unabated Horrors---Death and Destitution---Measures of Relief.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—Two hundred and fifty-three applications were made to the Howards for relief yesterday. The members of the Visiting Committee report the general spread of the fever, and find it encroaching upon localities heretofore measurably exempt. The Ancient Order of Hibernians, Lusitarian Portuguese and German Benevolent Associations, have made appeals to similar organizations throughout the Union for assistance.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 2.—The extra day's racing of the Louisville Jockey Club, Sept. 30th, will be for the yellow fever sufferers.

GALVESTON, TEX., Sept. 2.—The Houston Board of Health has issued the following:

"From and after the third day of September, 1878, no passengers, express, freight or mails will be allowed to enter the county of Harris from beyond the State line, until the 23d day of September, 1878. Notice of the extension of the time will be given should safety demand.

(Signed,) R. RUTHERFORD, M. D., Health Office, City of Houston, Harris county."

NEW ORLEANS, September 2.—The plucky successor of the deceased Tom Marshall, telegrapher at Grenada, is the veteran telegraph superintendent, David Flanery, a gentleman well-known and respected throughout the South. A Memphis dispatch gives his name as "Fleming," which is erroneous. Mr. Flanery has been identified with the telegraph in New Orleans and elsewhere all his life, and in fever times has constituted himself a nurse, and personally cared on many occasions for his sick and dying operators. Recently he removed to Richmond, Va., from which place he voluntarily tendered his services whenever needed, and he was ordered to Grenada.

NEW ORLEANS, September 2.—The Firemen's Charitable Association of this city has been compelled to call on the public for aid. The Police Mutual Benevolent Association has also appealed for assistance.

PENSACOLA, September 2.—Pensacola has quarantined against Mobile. Pensacola had only four deaths in August; two of them infants. The Pensacola railroad shops sent Port Gibson forty dollars. The Masons sent Memphis ninety dollars. D. T. Sullivan sent New Orleans one hundred dollars. A citizen's subscription is being raised.

WASHINGTON, September 2. — The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, held this afternoon, was held in response to a letter from the President of the Y. M. C. A. of New Orleans, who says:

"The Association makes this appeal to you for help in the name of our common humanity, in the confident hope that it will be responded to, because it would seem proper that our organization should be foremost in good works of this kind."

Measures were taken for a generous response to this appeal. Other agencies are at work elsewhere in this same direction.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., September 2.—The Board of Trade held a meeting today and appointed a committee to collect contributions for the fever sufferers.

NEW YORK, September 2.—Theus Taylor, a native of Louisiana, now a resident here, sailed Saturday to assist the fever sufferers in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, September 2.—Th following has just been received:

PORT GIBSON, MISS., September 2d.

To the Associated Press:

There are four hundred cases and fifty five deaths out of 550 persons remaining in the town. About 1,200 have fled. The distress is very great. The sick are dying with no one to give them a drink of water. Some nurses are on the way from New Orleans and Chicago. Help and funds are needed.

(Signed.) JAMES A. GAGE, President of the Howard Association.

NEW ORLEANS, September 2.—Two hundred and nine new cases and 88 deaths are reported.

NEW YORK, September 2.—The Southern Relief Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at noon today. Up to that hour subscriptions amounting to $2,296.35 were received, among them being $500 from Wm. H. Vanderbilt, and $500 from William Astor; $200 from Gen G J Magee. This makes the total amount of subscriptions to date, $44,637.12. The Committee authorized the Treasurer to remit the following amounts to-day:

To the Howard Association of New Orleans, $5,000.

The Howard Association at Vicksburg, $2,000.

To the Howard Association at Grenada, $500.

The Howard Association at Memphis, $2,000.

The Citizens' Relief Association at Memphis, $1,000.

Contributions of the citizens of Brooklyn thus far amount to $2,179.

Collections by the police on Saturday and Sunday through the ballot boxes, amounted to $657.90.

MEMPHIS, September 2.—To-day opened clear and warm with a liltle force of workers nearly exhausted. The fever continues without abatement, but is impossible to obtain the number of new cases up to noon for the reason that physicians are not required to report before 5 p. m. Undertakers report forty-eight fever interments up to noon, and the indications are that the death list will be as large as yesterday. A number of negroes, some of them drunk, assembled before the commissary depot this morning and becoming riotous, made a rush for the door. They were kept back by the colored militia who were on guard, but a second attempt being made, the guards fired, killing one negro. The doors were then closed, and General Luke E. Wright spoke to the crowd, restoring quiet for the time being. The committee is doing all in its power to supply the people with food, but some of the negroes are dissatisfied with the manner in which rations are issued, and further trouble is feared.

Foreign Intelligence.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, September 2.—The Earl of Lauderdale is dead.

Zimmerman & Hayland, merchants, of Birmingham, trading with the United States, have failed. Liabilities estimated at $81,500.

A Vienna despatch says that the insurrection at Freiberg was caused by the knowledge that the Turkish regulars intended to surrender the citadel to the Austrians, in obedience to orders from the Porte.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 2.—Several newspapers mention the report that Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Ambassador to London, is about to be appointed Chief of the new Ministry of Police, including the whole gen d'armerie and police administration hitherto under the control of the Minister of the Interior; that Prince Orloff, Ambassador at Paris, will succeed Count Schouvaloff at London; that M. Novikoff, Ambassador at Vienna, will go to Paris; and Prince Doubrill' Ambassador at Berlin, will go to Vienna.

High-handed Mexican Measures

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—A special to the Galveston News from Rio Grande city, says that yesterday an edict went into effect abolishing the "Zona Libre," except as to Matamoras and New Lerdo, and prohibiting commercial intercourse at other points. The people on the Mexican side are much exasperated, especially at Camargo and Mier, and have sent a violent and threatening protest to the central government.

We learn that a party from South Carolina settled an "affair of honor" near the dividing line between North and South Carolina, in Anson county, one day last week. Two shots apiece were exchanged, but no blood shed. The parties were a Mr. Williams, of Camden, South Carolina, and a son of General Cash, of Chesterfield. After the second shots the affair was amicably settled, and all left the grounds as friends.

Debt Statement.

By Telegraph to the News.

BALTIMORE, September 2.—Tuesday last Mike Green, negro, committed a violent assault on a young woman in Prince George county. On the same day he was arrested and lodged in jail at Marlboro. About one o'clock this morning, about 25 men entered the jail, took Green and hanged him to a tree on the public highway, a short distance from the jail.

DEATH FROM FRIGHT.

A Charlotte Lady with Raleigh Connections.

Correspondence of the News.

MORGANTON, Sept. 1.

Mrs. Peter Brown, of Charlotte, died suddenly on the road from Glen Alpine Springs to the Railroad, yesterday. She had long been a sufferer from heart disease, and her life has been several times despaired of in the quiet of her home.

CAUSE OF THE FRIGHT.

The hack from Glen Alpine to the Railroad broke down on the route, which gave Mrs. Brown a fright, and under the excitement she suddenly expired.

HER CONNECTIONS.

Mrs. Brown was a relict of the late Peter Brown, of Charlotte, and in her second widow-hood. She was the mother of Capt. Wm. H. Crawford, of Salisbury, and of Rev. Lee Crawford, now stationed at Fayetteville, and who married Miss Marianna Pullen, of Raleigh. The deceased was at a very advanced age.

A man who was recently hung in Indiana, being of a very practical turn of mind, made no observations about meeting anybody in heaven. He merely nodded to the preacher and said, laconically, "I'll see you later," and then the trap fell.

Postmaster General Key dropped in at the railroad buffet at Omaha the other day, called for a cold broiled chicken, half a dozen hard-boiled eggs, a plate of potato-salad and some pickled oysters. He followed this up with a dessert, consisting of peach pie, harvest apples and watermelon. As he pulled down his vest and sailed out of the saloon with a comfortable air, the boys gathered round him and called for three cheers for "the boss lunch-fiend of America."

In spite of orders to the contrary, Kearney spoke from the steps of the capitol at Washington, Thursday night, to thousands, and gave his views of the President and other public men. Hayes, he said, is a nice gentleman, but he hasn't a high opinion of him. He is owned, body and soul, by the Money-Power. He despises Tilden (for whom he voted,) because he hasn't back-bone. Peter Cooper, he says, is a granny, but Butler is the man; and if we had him, we would be, in his opinion, all right. John Sherman he pronounced a scoundrel, who had concocted a scheme for plunder.ng the American people. His great speech at Toledo was not listened to, and it took him three months, with a wet towel tied around his head, to prepare it. He sent copies of it to all the organs of the plunderers of this country, and the next morning they all came out with double-leaded columns, headed, "brilliant speech from John Sherman."—Richmond Whig.

Whenever the Press of the country attempt to create another demagogue for universal detestation we trust they will have the sense to select somebody possessed of at least an ounce of brains. There are plenty of draymen in Washington—and it isn't much of a commercial city either—who waste twenty times as much intellect in ordinary daily conversation with the mules they drive as was exhibited by the much-vaunted Dennis Kearney in a three hours' harangue last night. As for the Post, it humbly apologizes to its readers for having bestowed a thousandth part of the space on him that it has.

RANDOLPH SUPERIOR COURT.

Trial of Thomas Pinkney Bowman for Murder---A Verdict of Guilty---Appeals to the Supreme Court.

Correspondence of the News.

Your correspondent has been in attendance upon Randolph court during this week, and suggests a few items of interest.

Court was called Monday morning last, at 10 o'clock promptly, his Honor, Hon. John Kerr, presiding. His charge to the Grand Jury was, as usual, forcible, unmistakable and in strict harmony with the moral charge handed down to Moses from Mount Sinai.

All preliminaries having been arranged, the court proceeded to dispose of the case of State vs. Aley Foster for an attempt at infanticide—the jury finding her guilty in manner and form as charged by the bill.

Tuesday morning, the case of State vs. Thomas P. Bowman, for murder, was taken up, having been moved from Rockingham, where the foul deed was alleged to have been committed, to Guilford, and from Guilford to Randolph. The prisoner was on trial for poisoning his wife with strichnine about the 30th of April, 1876. It appeared that the prisoner had lived unhappily with his wife for several years, the cause having been gross infidelity to her and unmerited attention to another woman of indifferent character. It was in evidence that the prisoner had purchased strychnine from a drug store in Reidsville, mixed it in a pint of whiskey in the presence of parties, and endeavored to employ them to administer the dose, swearing at the same time that if they didn't he would.

The prisoner is ably defended by Governor Reid, and Joseph Glenn, while the Hon. Thomas Ruffin, James Reid and J. R. Bulla are assisting the Solicitor in the prosecution. The progress of the case has been unusually interesting and instructive, especially the testimony and examination by a large number of experts as to the chemical and physiological condition of the organs of the deceased. Prof. Redd, of the University, was present on examination, having been the analytical chemist who analyzed the parts and obtained therefrom pure strichnine, which he exhibited to the jury, and with some of which he had killed other animals.

The defendant's counsel attempt to account for the sudden death of the deceased by showing to the jury that she died from sudden internal hemorrhage, a large quantity of blood having been found in the right pleural cavity, but the State had undoubtedly made out a plain case beyond a reasonable doubt. The jury, soon after the case was given them, returned a verdict of guilty. Bowman was at once sentenced to be hanged on Friday, October 4th, at Asheboro. His counsel immediately took an appeal to the Supreme Court, on the ground that notice was not given the counsel of the last exhumation of the remains for examination. The examination of the internal organs of the murdered woman, by Prof. A. H. Redd, of Chapel Hill, is said to be one of the most thorough anylyses ever made, and stamps that gentleman as one of our first analytical chemists.

Randolph county is more than an average county, containing within its boundaries five cotton factories, which do a large business, and keep constantly employed a large number of hands. The corn crops in this county are fine and the prospects for an abundant harvest truly encouraging.

Politics are sleeping rather quietly now, but General Scales will poll a large majority in this county in November, as he did two years ago. The "Nationals" are nowhere.

RAILROAD WASHOUTS.

Temporary Break in Western North Carolina Railroad.

Staff Correspondence of the News.

OLD FORT, Sept., 1.

My letter of date Friday 30th was delayed by one of those difficulties to which it referred as constanly besetting the Western North Carolina railroad, as well in its operations as in the extension of its line. On that night there was a heavy rainfall throughout the mountain country, and it had been raining freely on both sides of the Blue Ridge for several days.

THE WASHOUTS.

The mail and passenger train proceeding East on Friday night encountered, some five miles below Morganton, a washout destroying over a hundred lineal feet of high embankment at Berry's mill the damage said to have arisen at this point from the effects of ponding the water for the mill. A half of mile or so below occurred a similar disaster, and employees of the road say that it will be some days before the broken road is open to the passage of trains.

NO INTERRUPTION TO TRAVEL.

But there will be no interruption of travel. Mail and passenger trains run regularly on both sides, passengers and baggage being transferred with little inconvenience or delay. The washouts were discovered and reported before the approach of the trains from either direction, and there was no injury to passengers or damage of property whatever. A large force was promptly set to work repairing damages, and the road will be restored at the earliest possible moment.

THE ONLY DELAY SUFFERED.

Mails and passengers coming this way will have no delay, but for Raleigh and other eastern points there will be a necessary delay of twenty-four hours. The break is eight miles west of Salisbury, and it will be impossible to make the 6 a. m. connection at Salisbury with the Raleigh mail, and keep up the midnight Salisbury connection westward. The freight and accommodation train was also caught on this end.

Served Him Right.

A bluff and hearty sea-captain from San Francisco had last week the supreme satisfaction of resenting a gross insult to a young lady who was travelling in the same car. She had taken an express train at Chicago, and had begun alone a long journey—to England via New York—with tears and homesickness. When the train reached Pittsburg, a coarse-grained brute entered the car, and being struck by the beauty of the girl, dumped himself in the seat behind her. Leaning forward, he attempted to engage her in conversation, but received no reply to his questions, and as he persisted in them, she appeared deeply mortified and her face flushed scarlet at his insulting addresses. Finding that she would not reply, he followed up his rude advances by crowding into the seat beside her, despite her protest that she was fatigued and preferred to ride alone. At this point, the sea-captain, who had been quietly observing the fellow, approached and invited the lady to his seat, which she gratefully accepted. At Altoona, the young lady's persecutor stepped from the train, and as he reached the platform he was confronted by the captain with the remark that he had a wife and sister who might be travelling alone and subject to the insults of such a man; the captain thereupon dealt him a powerful blow in the face, felling him to the platform, and cutting him badly below the left eye. The passengers inquired excitedly the cause of the assault, and the captain briefly explained that he was resenting an insult to a young lady. The stranger rose quickly, and while drawing a pistol was struck again and knocked to the ground, and upon rising received several terrible blows in the face. An officer finally interfered, but upon learning the cause of attack made no attempt to arrest the assailant.

CATAWBA COUNTY.

Commissioner Polk's Address at Hickory--The Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge.

Correspondence of the News.

HICKORY, Aug. 31.

Our town has not been so crowded this season that events unusual could pass unnoticed. Since the meeting of the Press Association and the excitement over the summer election there was little else than the rounds of enjoyment with the young and gay till the coming of Col. Polk, Commissioner of Agriculture, on the 28th. The notice of his coming was not much known, yet a respectable number of our farmers assembled to hear him. They were deservedly complimented by the Commissioner on their success in the noblest of sciences and many advantages held to view as inducements to united and persistent efforts. Agricultural orators and writers have labored for years to create the impression among young gentlemen that manual labor, and especially farm labor, is not degrading, and we have some living evidence their labors have not been in vain. A young gentleman, a "worthy son of an honored sire," one of the noblest and best families of the Cape Fear region is seeking a place with some Catawba farmer to learn how to farm. Says he wants to buy a farm after he has learned how to manage it. What an example this young man is setting to his brethren, the youths of our good old state. Let us hope many will follow and be benefitted by it.

CHESTER AND LENOIR GAUGE.

Our town was again enlivened on the 29th by a visit from Mr. Hardee, President of the C. & L. N. G. Railroad. It is now a settled fact this road will be completed at no distant day. The grading is finished to Newton. The force is now working from Lenoir towards this place, which will be reached by winter, leaving only the space of ten miles between Hickory and Newton to be graded by our town by the time the iron is laid up to Newton. We have strong hopes from the new administration. The efforts of the ex-President to put the road in hands of a Receiver, has proven fruitless to him. The suits now pending in South Carolina about the bonds of Chester and York counties, are supposed by all soon to be decided in favor of the Company, which will place it in a very healthy condition and insure the progress of the work in extending the track towards Lenoir. The whole line is about one hundred and ten miles. They have fifty miles completed and equipped, and some thirty or forty miles more graded. The convicts are well cared for, work well and seem as well contented as could be expected under the circumstances. If nothing prevents, they will soon finish the grading of the C. & L. N. G. Railroad and be turned over to our Watauga and Caldwell friends, and we may soon hope to see the little iron horse taking his loads of South Carolina cotton to our mountain factories, and returning with loads of potatoes, cabbage and buckwheat flour to feed the hungry cotton planters of the South. So mote it be. M.

A Desideratum.

The good farmer is always a connoisseur in the matter of seeds. He is always aware of the advantages of securing such as by their appearance give full promise of producing the best results as a crop. About none is he more particular than as to oats. At the store of M. T. Norris & Co., there have just been received 200 bushels of the finest seed winter oats ever seen in this market. The firm also has on sale a quant ty of rust-proof oats, which are commended to the attention of farmers generally. *

THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

Great and Difficult Work of Crossing the Blue Ridge---Tunnels, Cuts and Land-Slides --A Task for the Times--Steep Winding Way to the Sky---Wonders of American Engineering---Progress of the Work.

Staff Correspondence of the News.

OLD FORT, August 30, 1878.

The public patience has been well tried over this great State work, one of the most important links in our system of internal improvements. But at last it is about to cross the line of the Blue Ridge. The mountain work is rapidly approaching completion. Work on the shorter tunnels and the intervening cuts and fills is nearly done, the road-bed pretty well leveled up, and, without unusual land-sliding in the deep cuts, six to eight weeks more will bring the iron track to the mouth of the Swannanoa tunnel, under the crest of the Blue Ridge. That work is also progressing to completion, but of late has been seriously impeded by the falling earth through which it is made, the diggers having gotten through the rock formation to encounter the more objectionable earth excavating. Now they must timber as they go, where, before, the solid rock, when cut through, constituted its own supporting arches. The timber supports will give place to stone or brick masonry before the road is open to safe and permanent traffick. With all the precautions of timber supports, the trouble and annoyance of caving cannot be entirely averted, for only a few days ago a portion of the tunnel work at the Western approach caved in, involving additional labor and causing delay to the progress of the work. But without much unforeseen trouble, the track will be through this tunnel; and four or five miles on toward Asheville by January.

A HERCULEAN TASK.

This Railroad, now measuring one hundred and twenty-five miles of track, is nearly a quarter of a century old. They who projected it never would have undertaken the work could they have appreciated its magnitude and the almost insuperable difficulties in the way. The trouble with the public is that the work of building the Western North Carolina Railroad has never been understood and can never be appreciated by the people. No written description conveys an adequate idea of it. A map would go far to illustrate it, but one must walk over the route and take in the topography of the country, pass through the deep cuts and over the immense fills, to approximate the magnitude of what has been accomplished by engineering skill and manual labor. And one viewing this work, to get an idea of its immensity, must see a beautiful cut through a great hill suddenly spoiled by a land-slide coming tumbling into it, loosening several acres of earth on the hill sides above, necessitating not only the removal of another cut full of dirt, but the volume of loosened earth above which comes creeping down as fast as the laborers remove it at the foot. These land-slides have seriously impeded the progress of the road builders, and for a long time after the completion of the road will fall in, entail expense and interfere with traffick. Mud tunnel, so-called from its being all earth, fell in after it was through, necessitating one of the greatest cuts in the world. Mud cut filled as above described, and a convict force of sappers and miners have for several weeks been repairing similar damage at the mouth of Licklog tunnel. There is no means of estimating the quantity of earth that has fallen into completed work between Henry and the Swannonoa tunnel, a distance of eight miles, but it would be found to be equal to a large proportion of what was originally estimated as necessary to move. Mud tunnel, which fell, in loosening a mountain of earth above it, was over a hundred yards long.

STEEP, WINDING WAY TO THE SKY.

Without being precise to the foot and inch, Old Fort is twelve hundred and fifty feet above the level of the sea. At Henry, only three miles, the railroad track is fifteen hundred, and at the mouth of the Swannanoa tunnel, eight miles from Henry, the track is twenty-four hundred feet above the sea level. It is but three miles from Henry, up the stage road, to the Swannanoa Gap, the summit of the Blue Ridge, but the railroad has to take a tortuous way through the mountain fastnesses to make the nine hundred feet rise, and if it did not dash through the Ridge a hundred and fifty feet under its crest, the grade would be that much nearer heaven for the eight miles of the average of one hundred and twelve feet. Walking over this portion of the road, a slight stretch of the imagination converts the cross-ties into stair-steps leading toward the skies. The general direction of the road from Henry to the Swannanoa Gap would decribe a short, broad, square-toed shoe sole, the space from Henry to the Gap standing for the toe, the heel planted back in the mountains; but the line at Round Knob, as it circles that mountain, doubles on itself, describing the letter S. This piece of work, in engineering skill, is not surpassed in North America, and by substituting the S route for a line indicated in the original survey, is dispensed with a proposed bridge of two hundred and forty feet height. A more particular description of this portion of the road can be better understood from a map which is being prepared for the NEWS, and which will illustrate the line from Henry to the Swannanoa, showing the tunnels and more important cuts, aqueducts, trestles and fills, Mill Creek alone being crossed as many as twelve times from Old Fort to where the track is at present laid, four and a half miles beyond Henry Station.

THE TUNNELS.

In round numbers there are thirty-five hundred lineal feet of tunnel work on the Western North Carolina Railroad, besides the fallen Mud Tunnel, which was three hundred and fifty more. These tunnels are Point tunnel, Lick Log, High Ridge, Burgin and Swannanoa, five in all, and daylight has peeped through them all, save the last, and two hundred lineal feet more of excavation will complete the tunnel work on the road. But don't let any more of your writers reach Asheville by January. Six months later will be plenty fast, for the next Legislature must place a heavy force at the Tennessee line and bring the road on this way, and thereby sooner close the gap in our great Western connections.

King Cotton.

New Orleans Democrat.

The telegraph has told us much of the triumph of America at the Paris Exposition, of the victories achieved there by her inventions, her machinery, her engines, etc., but scarcely a word has been said on the point of how America, compared with the rest of the world in her greatest product, her chief strength and wealth—cotton. Of all the vegetable kingdom, cotton ranks first in importance at the Exposition; it has clearly shown there its superiority—proved that it is still "King Cotton." There are more specimens of it on exhibition than of any other agricultural product; there is cotton from Egypt, from Brazil, the Fiji Islands, Greece, Italy, India, China, Guiana, Senegal, Mexico, the Cape of Good Hope, and a score of other countries. The Exposition, therefore, furnishes a fine field for studying the cottons of all these countries and comparing their various merits and advantages; and this study will clearly show that no quarter of the globe can even compete successfully with the Southern States in raising good and cheap cotton. European cotton is scarcely worth consideration; it can never be grown profitably. A few thousand bales are, it is true, raised in Greece and Italy, but the seasons in these countries are too short for the proper development of the cotton, and hence it is of an inferior quality. Algeria, just opposite Italy, offers great advantages to cotton-growers, coupled, however, with disadvantages that prevent the successful cultivation of this article there. Labor in Algeria is excessively dear, and very uncertain; the native grasses and weeds, moreover, are of peculiarly strong and rapid growth and a fatal enemy to the cotton plant. The Algerian cotton-growers have fought in these weeds for years in vain; the weeds have finally triumphed, and thousands of acres of land that were cultivated in cotton only fifteen years ago are now given over altogether to couch grass. The cotton raised in Asia is all of an inferior quality. The fibre of that raised in the East Indies is coarse, short and weak; it is our principal competitor as far as quantity is concerned, chiefly used to work up with good American cotton; indeed without American cotton as a basis, there would be little of any, demand for the Indian product in England. The Chinese cotton is but little better; there is, moreover, little likelihood of its ever finding its way to Europe, as all that can be raised in the Celestial Empire is needed at home or in Japan. In fact, the Paris Exposition has demonstrated the fact that it is impossible to grow good cotton anywhere in the southern part of Asia, which it was at one time predicted would supply the world with this staple. The temporary success of Indian cotton cultivation was due to the high prices born of the war, to the aid of English capital and the cheapness of labor in India. In Senegal and the Cape of Good Hope so small an amount of cotton is cultivated that it is impossible to tell whether it can be produced there cheap enough. The cotton plant grows wild on the western coast of Africa, but no efforts have been made in any of the numerous English settlements on this coast to go into cotton raising to any extent. The Sea Island cotton, raised in the Fijis, is another English failure. The cotton plant grows well in these islands, and the fibre is nearly as long as the best American, but mixed with short fibres that are lost in spinning, an insuperable objection to its use, and the cause of its low value.

Thus it seems that America is the only portion of the world where good cotton can be raised cheap. North or South America seem both equally well adapted to this staple. The chief American countries engaged in cotton raising are Brazil, Mexico, Guiana and the Southern States. In view of the fact that more care is taken here in the cultivation of cotton that our labor is better and surer, and that the government is not subject to frequent changes, as in Mexico, there seems to be no reason why we should fear that any Spanish-American republic or English negro settlement can compete with us cotton raising. Such is most valuable lesson that the Paris Exposition teaches.

Receipts for year ending August 31, 1876, 39.774 bales, market closing at 11 1-4c.

Receipts for year ending August 31, 1877, 44,274 bales, market closing at 10 1-2 c.

Receipts for year ending August 31, 1878, 45,318 bales, market closing at 11c.

Above are given the comparative cotton receipts in this market for the past week, and also for the past year. The receipts for the past five years are also given, from which it will be seen that they have nearly doubled in that time. This is very gratifying, and there is reason to believe that with the increased facilities for doing the cotton business in this market, and the quick and certain transportation afforded by the railroads, that the receipts will yet largely increase. The grade of cotton here has been greatly improved by the free use of fertilizers and the improved condition of cotton lands. The growing crop of cotton is a large one, and it is generally thought will reach 4,800,000 to 5,000,000 bales, but if so large even as these figures, it will all be needed. So all may hope for an active market during the coming year.

At Cost for Thirty Days.

In order to reduce our stock and make room for Fall stock we will sell fine walnut dressing, case suits, parlor suits, side-boards and hat racks at cost for thirty days. Persons buying and paying the cash we will keep furniture in store until October 1st. Now is the time to get bargains, we mean business. Call and examine for yourselves. W. H. Morris & Co. *

Sales at Reams' Warehouse, Durham. N C. August 29, 1878.

J A. McCauley, of Alamance county, sold 10,7381bs., 4784lbs. of this sold for $2169.54, averaging $45 35, and this amount is less than half Mr. McCauley's crop, when the other half is heard from Mr McCauley will certainly be elected; as all other farmers will be, that carriy good tobacco to Reams' Warehouse

James A. Crews, of Granville county, averaged for four grades $42,21. Wm. A. Bobbitt, of the same county, averaged for three grades $47,78. W. L. Allen, of Person county, averaged for four grades $54 26. Farmers remember Reams' is still getting up, and right along on the average, and you all know that is what puts the greenbacks in you rpockets.

Fine Wrappers and Fancy Smokers in good demand at Reams' Warehouse, at paying prices. Call and see Reams. *

Fall Wheat.

Agriculturists are always in doubt as to whether wheat planted in the fall or spring yields the greater results. In this climate and soil, with proper attention, fall wheat produces a good yield. In this case, however, much depends upon the fertilizer used, and this is an almost paramount consideration. Among the various fertilizers on sale, the Arlington guano has been proved by use to be the most suitable for fall wheat. This excellent fertilizer is on sale at the store of Cooke & Wainright, Martin, between Wilmington and Blount streets. *

Partnership.

Having withdrawn from the late firm of Barbee & Latta, I have associated myself in business with Rand & Barbee, wholesale grocers and commission merchants, and take this occasion to return thanks to my old friends and customers for their past liberal patronage, and hope to see them at my new place of business. Respectfully,

E. B. BARBEE.

The style of the firm will be Rand & Barbee Bros.

To Carpenters and Builders.

If you are needing anything in the way of edge tools or builders hardware, of any kind, we would advise you to call at J. C. Brewster's hardware house, where you can find a splendid stock of goods in this line, and at prices to suit the scarcity of money. All tools sold are fully warranted. He will contract for roofing at prices which will enable you to put in your bids (where there is any tin work to be done) lower than ever, giving you an opportunity to use tin in place of shingles.

He uses nothing except the best material. J. C. BREWSTER,
* Holleman Building.

Lumsden's is the place to buy your stoves. He sells them on time, if you haven't the money. So none need be without a cook stove. His "Old North State" took the premium at last State Fair as being the best wood cook stove on exhibition. Tin ware, wood ware, and a complete stock of house furnishing goods at Lumsden's. Powder, shot, caps and wads; also gun work in all branches, at Lumsden's. *

While a Mr. Lancaster, of Battleboro, N. C., was filling a lamp with kerosene, it exploded, filling the room with flame. The house was only saved with great exertions.—Raleigh Daily News.

The Danger and the Duty.

The folly and criminality of division in the Democratic party are growing more apparent with each day's developments and with every recurring indication of the times. The evidences of activity on the part of the Radical managers, as exhibited in the assessment of Federal officials, the employment of large sums of money, the distribution of prominent speakers, and the effort to foment dissensions in the Democratic ranks by the encouragement of independentism, so-called, all bespeak a last and desperate purpose to retain what power they have and to regain what they have lost. Any failure, on the part of the Democratic party, to meet such exhibitions with corresponding unity and determination, is to admit that the reforms which it has already accomplished are worthless and to surrender its professed aims and aspirations. The Democrat who, recalling the history of the past thirteen years,—with its terrible record of military despotism, financial depression and oppression, class legislation, official dishonesty and corruption of rings and monopolies,—allows himself, at this critical juncture, to be swerved an inch from the straight line of party fealty and patriotic duty, will repent it in sack-cloth and ashes, when it may be too late.

To do so will be to condone the misrule and outrages of the past and to invite their repetition. Hercules killed the Hydra by dissevering its central and vital head. If we content ourselves with the work we have accomplished of lopping off only one of its minor heads and resting from the labor, many and larger heads, as was the case with the Lernean monster, will grow in its stead. If, through our supineness or disaffection, we fail now to give the final blow to that party, which we conscientiously believe to have been the cause of all the evils of the past, ours will be alike the suffering and the blame. We address these words to good men,—honest Democrats,—patriotic citizens,—who, perhaps, have not fully reflected upon the danger of yielding to personal solicitations, or going off upon minor issues, or abating the earnestness of party allegiance. We have no word of appeal to ambitious demagogues or disappointed office-seekers, who care nothing for principle or party except in so far as it may subserve self. But to the former we repeat,—and we would that it could be graven upon the very rocks,—that no more momentous a conflict ever challenged their most loyal and faithful services than that which is now upon us. Their material prosperity and the perpetuation of constitutional government are alike at stake, and, in such an issue,

"He is lost who falters,
And he who doubts is damned."

The Washington Post, pointing out the dangers and duties of the times, speaks words of wisdom and of warning, when it says that the people of the country who value their liberties; who set store by the heritage of rights bequeathed to them from 1776; who hope that their posterity may enjoy the same franchises and immunities that they themselves enjoy to-day, call themselves what they may—Democrats, Nationals, Greenbackers, Workingmen or Republicans—have an interest in excluding the gang that has seized the Republican party machine from control of the next House of Representatives, an interest not less vital than our forefathers had in excluding the taxed tea from Boston harbor. The issue is already joined in more than half of the Congressional districts of the country, and will soon be made up in all. Whatever may be the divergence of opinion among citizens on minor points of the intricate questions of finance, or upon other equally ephemeral questions, there can be no serious division of sentiment among the hardworking, tax-paying masses of the American people on the grand, vital issue for the perpetuation of our past and present system under conservative auspices, or the establishment of a moneyed oligarchy, under the ægis of bastard imperialism upon the ruins of the republic. Theoretically, our country is still the republic of Jefferson; but practically it is a vast experimental structure, whose foundations have been undermined by the vile acts of corrupt men in power, whose walls have been sapped by the rot of fanaticism, and which a great, powerful and determined band of conspirators are now gathering their energies and mustering their resources to batter down and demolish.

If the next House should be captured by the Radical party, that result would mean that the men who took about $1,400,000,000 out of the blood, and bone, and sinew of this nation by hiring a herd of cattle, called the Forty-first Congress, to pass the infamous public credit act of 1869, have bought another herd, to be called the Lower House of the Forty-sixth, to serve still more desperate and baser purposes in the same direction. The control of the next House by that party would render the success of the Grant movement two years hence a sufficiently foregone conclusion to discourage and dishearten a large part of those who have been battling so long for the principles of Conservatism and a restoration of honest, constitutional government. And the success of the Grant movement would mean the substitution of plebiscites for elections, of military regulations for the Constitution, and of a "strong government" for the sovereignty of the people. These things are worth thinking about. It will be much better to think about them now and nip their tendencies in the bud, than to wait until they are to be helplessly and hopelessly moralized over in the future as accomplished facts.

Kilpatrick,—he of cavalry fame (?)—has just been supervising a grand military display at Deckertown, New Jersey, and, as if the memory of the real battles of the late terrible civil conflict were not enough, there was a sham battle on the occasion. Kilpatrick was always the veriest of shams. Not the least of his shams was when he came to Raleigh, just after the Presidential election of 1876, professedly on private business but really to manipulate our State returns in the interests of the Radical party. But to the "battle:" A corresponpent of the Philadelphia Times gives the following thrilling description:

"The battle began at 11 o'clock. The State militia, numbering about eight hundred, were stationed in the valley in front of General Kilpatrick's house. The Grand Army of the Republic occupied the woods and hill on the other side of the valley. The engagement opened with a skirmish between the sentinels. The militia represented the Confederates and the Grand Army the Union soldiers. The Union men charged on the enemy and drove them toward their battery. The 'Rebs" were then reinforced by the Fourth Regiment and turned the tables, driving the Union boys back into the woods. The Unions, in their turn, aided by fresh troops, repelled their adversaries. A flag of truce was waved and a surrender ensued. There was plenty of noise from cannon and muskets. Blank cartridges were used, but nevertheless several of the men received slight wounds. After the combat was concluded a short speech was delivered on the brow of the hill by General Kilpatrick, and then the participants formed and marched past the General's house, where the old war-worn flag of Kilpatrick's Cavalry was waved."

The correspondent, his soul burning with martial ardor and his enthusiasm quickened, doubtless, by copious potations of "lager," which, we are also told, flowed in abundance to refresh the exhausted energies of the doughty warriors of New Jersey, breaks out with the animated ejaculation: "It was really fine—splendid!" Undoubtedly there can have been nothing like it since that memorable day, when Mr. Pickwick, accompanied by his faithful friends, Winkle, Tupman and Snodgrass, attended the military review at Rochester,—of which we have the following veracious chronicle:

"At length that low roar of many voices ran through the crowd which usually announces the arrival of whatever they have been waiting for. All eyes were turned in the direction of the sallyport. A few moments of eager expectation, and colors were seen fluttering gaily in the air, arms glistened brightly in the sun: column after column poured on to the plain. The troops halted and formed; the word of command rung through the line, there was a general clash of muskets as arms were presented; and the commander-in-chief, attended by Colonel Bulder and numerous officers, cantered to the front. The military bands struck up altogether: the horses stood upon two legs each, cantered backwards, and whisked their tails about in all directions; the dogs barked, the mob screamed, the troops recovered, and nothing was to be seen on either side, as far as the eye could reach, but a long prospective of red coats and white trousers, fixed and motionless.

Mr. Pickwick had been so fully occupied in falling about, and disentangling himself, miraculously, from between the legs of horses, that he had not enjoyed sufficient leisure to observe the scene before him, until it assumed the appearance we have just described. When he was at last enabled to stand firmly on his legs, his gratification and delight were unbounded.

"Can any thing be finer or more delighful?" he inquired of Mr. Winkle.

"Nothing," replied that gentleman, who had had a short man standing on each of his feet, for the quarter of an hour immediately preceding.

"It is indeed a noble and a brilliant sight," said Mr. Snodgrass, in whose bosom a blaze of poetry was rapidly bursting forth, "to see the gallant defenders of their country, drawn up in a brilliant array before its peaceful citizens: their faces beaming with civilized gentleness; their eyes flashing—not with the rude fire of rapine or revenge, but with the soft light of humanity and intelligence."

The New York World alludes to the jeremiads of the Northern Radical press over the fate of the negroes in North Carolina, past, present, and to come. "Especially," says that paper, "did the Republican papers sound like harps beacuse of J. H. Collins, candidate for the solicitorship in the Second District. He was a negro, and Wake county, in which is situated the State capital, was in his district, and the Democrats were raging over his nomination, and he was to be killed, made away with; his life was to be translated into death; the Democrats were to bandy with him in faction, o'errun him in policy and kill him in a hundred ways. Collins lived to poll 17,545 votes to 11,722, and in Wake county he obtained 3,571 votes, or 80 per cent. of the Republican vote of 1876, though the total vote in 1878 was barely over 50 per cent of that of two years ago. Not only did the Democratic canvassers count Collins in, but the Democratic Governor gave him his commission. When we consider how with a little buckshot or a few hickory goads and cambric masks, or a very slight discovery of informalities in the returns, the Democrats could have prevented this and proved true the gloomy predictions of our Republican contemporaries, we are astonished at their moderation."

There is a world of pathos in this simple incident, as told by a "Sister of Charity" writing from Memphis to a friend in New York. How Charles Dickens could have immortalized it!

"They have just brought in a little boy whom some of the Howards found in a room with two women—one dying, one dead. We took off his clothes and dropped them into the grate, and him into a bath, before we remembered that we had nothing to put on him but a little flannel night-gown. Mr. Harris came, and said that he would have the fever before morning, and that he would baptize him at once. So we took him to the chapel, barefooted and in his night-dress, and baptized him—poor little thing—without much thought of the very incongruous externals. Everything is incongruous, and nothing more so than the dull, quiet way in which we say and hear the usual morning salutation, 'How many more to-day?'"

Ex-Governor Pease, of Texas, now on a visit to his former home in Connecticut, furnishes some interesting items of contrast and growth in that great State since he went there in 1835. He has seen the population grow from 20,000 to 2,000,000. A million have been added since the census of 1870. Most of this increase came from the Southern States in the six or seven years immediately following the war, but for some years now the bulk of the immigration has been from the Northwestern States—Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota. But few European immigrants have come in.

In his late speech at Toledo, John Sherman had the audacity to declare that "there is no danger in this country that a political party will seek to combine the money power with the political power and concentrate both in its own government power." In the face of the past and present history of the Radical party, such impudence of assertion is really sublime. Sherman's syndicate operations give it the lie. The days of Credit Mobilier and similar transactions falsify it. The assessment of Federal office-holders, from the highest to the lowest, to raise money to perpetuate the Radical party in power, is its most emphatic refutation.

"Lately" is the adverb used by Senator Conkling when referring to the war sentiment of the South, when peace was declared more than thirteen years ago. The only war we have had since was when Grant and Canby and Sickles used the bayonet to control our elections and Holden and Kirk raided with their desperadoes. The bloody shirt has to be waved, however, and the malignant passions of such men as Conkling, Chandler, Hale, Howe and Blaine are such, that no lapse of time will abate their hatred of our people.

Some Radical journals already criticise the Congressional nomination of General Joe Johnston by the Richmond Democratic Convention. And this in the face of the new gazetting of Mosby as Consul to Canton by the State Department! Thus early, in New York as in Maine—under the inspiration of Conkling as of Blaine—is the bloody shirt to be waved when the wind sets southward, but to be concealed when its quarter is northerly.

We are indebted to the Hon. K. P. Battle, President of the University, for a copy of Dr. Sears' valuable address on the objects and advantages of Normal Schools. As Mr. B., himself, has remarked, "there is no one in the United States who has greater experience or authority in matters relating to education than Dr. Sears, and no one who is more worthy to be listened to with respect and deference by the teachers of the land."

HOME REMEDY.
THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!
A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY
CURE FOR SCROFULA.
FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS!
The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:
"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs. Person's father. Mrs. Person lives at Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whisky, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. —— wrote to Mrs. Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless those old Indians! We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

LOUISBURG, N. C., May 22, 1878.
MRS. JOE PERSON:
The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting benefit to my son. He was troubled with twenty-seven running sores, some of them quite large, and of a Scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your Remedy he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite well and healthy. AS A TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain,
Very Respectfully,
T. J. STOKES.

For my personal reliability, I refer, by permission to Rt. Rev. Thos. Atkinson, D. D., North Carolina; Geo. A. Foote, M. D., Warren, Co.; Hons. J. J. Davis and C. M. Cooke, Franklin Co.
The above medicine is for sale by Pescud, Lee & Co., Wm. Simpson, and F. H. Heartt, Druggists Raleigh, N. C. or it may be ordered direct from me. For further information, enclose stamp for Circulars to

MACHINERY.
HEGE'S IMPROVED CIRCULAR
SAW MILL
CIRCULAR SAW MILL. LEVER FEED CUTTER.

Hege's Improved Circular Saw Mill, is no new and untried saw mill, but is one that is well and favorably known in many sections, and wherever it is introduced it is fast superceding all others. It is simple in construction, yet reliable in operation, and is sold for less than any similar first class saw mill. Send for descriptive circular
Lever Feed Cutter,
Is something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed is cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a knife is used in cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.
Price reduced to $8.00. Send for circular. Liberal discount to agents. No goods consigned. Manufactured by the Salem Agricultural Works, Salem, N. C.

(From Rev. Mr. Cameron, Minister of the Presbyterian Church South.)

MOSSY CREEK, Tenn., August 22, 1876.

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——A very large number of persons were in the city yesterday.

——By the middle of this month cotton will be coming in in some quantity.

——The State Treasurer has issued a drummer's license to Thaxton & Nicholas, Richmond, Va.

——Rainbow-hued belts and bows are now worn by fashionable misses, and give a gay air to bevy of these on the streets.

——The city editor acknowledges, with thanks, the many courtesies of C. D. Upchurch, Esq., as Clerk of the Superior Court.

—— Mr. W. N. Andrews, of this city, yesterday exhibited a sweet potato of the yam variety, which weighed four and a half pounds.

——A very large crowd congregates at the Court House. The Criminal Court seems to posses peculiar powers of attraction, especially for the negroes.

——A darkey won the sympathy of bystanders on Fayetteville street yesterday, by his sad words and appearance as he mended a wagon one of whose wheels was utterly smashed.

——Everybody prays for frost to come, for then the death knell of that tormentor of soul and body, the mosquito, will be sounded. These pests are worse this season than for years past.

——On representations in a petition of citizens, the Governor has pardoned M. C. Dickson, of Greensboro, who was sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail at that place for ten days.

Change of Base.

Mr. C. H. Llewellen, who has been for some time at the National Hotel, as clerk, has accepted the same position at the Tucker House.

Invited to Speak.

Dr. G. W. Blacknall has been pressingly invited to address a Sunday school meeting near this city, on Saturday next. He will, in all probability, accept.

Aid for the Fever Sufferers.

Mayor Manly yestesday received from two estimable ladies of this city the sum of $25, for the yellow fever sufferers. This amount was sent him in checks of $12.50 each. The amount was forwarded last evening.

The First Bale.

The first bale of cotton received here, whose sale was noticed in Sunday's News was consigned to Mr. W. A. Myatt, and was disposed of at his door. Pine Island guano was the fertilizer used in its production.

Fainted in Church.

While teaching a class in the Baptist Sabbath School, last Sunday morning, ex-Governor Holden fainted. A physician was summoned, and took his patient home in a carriage, where he soon recovered strength. No ill results followed the attack.

Military Gossip.

The "Kinston Rifles" is the name given a newly organized company, at that point. The officers are: Captain, R. H. Lewis; 1st Lieutenant, Henry Tull; 2nd Lieutenants, G. E. Miller and W. F. Stanly. The number of enlisted men is 54.

New Bleaching Process.

A noticeable thing here is the fact that several darkeys are losing their black color, and gradually paling. This is a curious phenomenon. It is said to be due to the fact of the peculiarities of drinking water. The water of the well in the yard of Mr. J. P. Prairie produces this effect, it is said.

Convict Discharged.

The authorities at the Penitentiary discharged, on Saturday last, Andrew Rountree, (col.) convicted in Wilson county of larceny, and sentenced to the penitentiary in November, 1876. He is about 62 years old, 5 feet 5¼ inches high, black hair and eyes, and weighed when admitted, 143 lbs.

Religious News.

At the baptizing at Samaria Baptist Church, on Sunday, the rite was performed upon fourteen persons. A large number of spectators were present. Rev. A. D. Blackwood performed the ceremony.

The revival at Bethel Baptist Church has closed after a week's continuance. During its progress six additions were made to the church.

Abstract of Taxes.

The Auditor has received the abstract of listed taxables from Montgomery county, made by T. H. Morris, Register of Deeds. This is the second county to make such reports this year.

General taxes	$1,029 21
School taxes	1,053 11
Special taxes	1,850 99
County taxes	6,428 02

Fine Sturgeon.

On yesterday a sturgeon came up Crabtree Creek, to Sater's pond. The dom of this being broken, the huge fish passed through an opening. Once above it, he found himself in shallow water—only here and there were pools. His presence in the pond was soon noticed, and the boys gathered and beat him with sticks and battered him with rocks. Two of the Messrs. Sater went down with an axe, and after hard work killed the visitor. He was found to be a fine specimen, measuring 8 feet 1 inch in length, and weighing 170 pounds.

Personal.

Mr. T. C. Worth returned to the city yesterday, after a visit to his home in Randolph.

Rev. Isaac P. Osborne, of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, is in the city, and stopping with his brother, Mr. Job Osborne, of the National. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his return.

Sworn In.

Judge Charles D. Upchurch yesterday swore in the new Board of County Commissioners. It consists of Messrs. W. R. Pool, A. G. Jones, William Jinks, Sol. J. Allen and Mills H. Brown.

The term of office of these gentlemen does not begin until the first Monday in December.

Messrs. Fray & Morson.

These estimable gentlemen and excellent instructors opened the first term of their school at the old Lovejoy Academy, yesterday, under flattering auspices. There were present fifty boys, and quite a number will be added. The school house has been refurnished, and presents a neat appearance. The citizens are to be congratulated upon having this excellent school in the city. It has the wish of all for continued success.

Death of Talton Beasley.

Talton Beasley, colored, who died in this city on Sunday, deserves more than a passing notice. He was a servant of George T. Cooke, Esq., for twenty-four years, and never left that gentleman's employment during any vicissitudes of fortune, or change of circumstances. Uniformly industrious, respectful and faithful, he enjoyed and deserved the confidence of all who knew him. He was 65 years of age. He was a brickmaker by trade, and, it is said, burned nearly all the brick used since the war in the buildings on Martin street and Market square.

County Officers Sworn In.

Chas. D. Upchurch, Esq., yesterday duly qualified as Clerk Superior Court and Probate Judge of this county, giving the required bond of $10,000. He at once entered upon the duties of his office. Judge Upchurch has been connected with the county government in various ways, since 1873. He began as Deputy Sheriff, and has worked his way up. He is regarded as an efficient officer. He will fix up his office in handsome style.

J. B. Neathery, qualified as County Treasurer, and Capt. W. W. White, as Register of Deeds. Neither of these gentlemen are required to give bond until January next.

Mayor's Court.

M. C. Williams, negro boy, on Sunday night broke the glass of a front window of the store of Wesley Whitaker, Esq., on Wilmington street. He had only time to take out a bag of smoking tobacco and a few clothes pins, when some parties who heard the crash of the broken glass ran up and captured him. He was up for trial, and was sent to jail by his Honor Mayor Manly, failing to give bail for his appearance at Court.

A negro boy who had been guilty of disorderly conduct in the market, was lodged in the guard house, from which he was taken out by his father and well whipped for his misdemeanor.

The Weather.

The following are the results of observations taken at the Signal Service Station in this city, by Thos. C. Harris, Esq., during the latter half of August, last, and show the following:

Temperature, Maximum,	89°
Temperature, Minimum,	66°
Temperature, Mean,	81°
Mean Humidity,	77°
Prevalent Winds,	N.E.

The most prominent feature was the high average humidity and the heavy rainfall, which was frequent in occurrence and large in quantity. Ten heavy showers fell during the specified time. No fog was observed during the month; therefore, according to the old superstition there will be no snow next winter.

A Terrific Rain-Storm—Great Damage to Mills.

The rain which fell on Saturday afternoon in the Southern portion of this county was the heaviest ever known there. On Black creek there are several mills. The stream rose very quickly to a great height, and in the space of two hours caused the complete destruction of three mill dams. These were the fine one of Mr. Alfred Myatt, which had stood the floods of fifty years without damage. But it was swept away. The wife of Mr. Myatt came near losing her life. On the bank was a large quantity of lumber, and this was all carried off. Two other dams were totally ruined—those of Wm. I. Rowland and Marion Partin. The total damage is over $3,000. The land suffered great damage by reason of the washing power of the water, which tore away the soil.

The Next State Fair.

Donations to the N. C. Agricultural Society for the Premium List of the 18th annual Fair, Oct. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18. 19 next.

(Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.)

Twenty-five annual subscriptions to the weekly Observer, $50, given by Hale & Saunders, editors and publishers, Raleigh, N. C.

No feature is more gratifying to the members of the North Carolina Agricultural Society and the friends of the State Fair, who are toiling year by year for the complete success of this great enterprise for the welfare of North Carolina, than the approval and sympathetic encouragement of the press of the State. No firms, however generous in donations, and liberal in their expenditures for the effective exhibition of their goods, can exceed, after all, the great value, even in a pecuniary sense, of the assistance of the papers of the State, and especially of the city of Raleigh. This valuable help is appreciated, and the committee hope that the day is coming when they may be able to render some substantial return.

To this, the Observer has now generously added the above donation, and doubtless others will follow. Already many persons are receiving various papers and magazines sent as premiums for their exhibits at the last Fair, and resulting, no doubt, in great favor to all parties.

One Cotton King Cook Stove, $20, given by J. C. Brewster, Raleigh, N. C., dealer in house-furnishing goods, stoves, paints, oils, &c. Mr. Brewster will make a fine display at the Fair this year of his goods, and also represent the Howe Platform Scales, and Howe Sewing Machine Company.

We invite our merchants generally to follow his liberal example, and be ready for the largest Fair ever held in the State.

The Useful and the Beautiful.

The two necessary qualities are both combined in the china, glass and silver ware now on exhibition at Law's elegant establishment, Fayetteville street. With these attractions is combined unusual cheapness. While the appearance of the goods charms the eye, the remarkably low prices prove equally attractive to buyers. *

RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERING

The Ladies Aid Association—Proceedings of the Meeting.

Pursuant to a call made in the daily papers, the ladies of the various churches assembled yesterday afternoon at the session room of the First Presbyterian Church. The attendance was large, and all the various denominations were well represented. The ladies are determined to contribute their share towards extending the blessing of relief to the suffering ones of the far South.

The meeting organized by the election of Mrs. John G. Williams as President. W. S. Primrose, Esq., was chosen Secretary. The name of the organization was then selected, and the one chosen was the "Ladies' Association for the Relief of the Yellow Fever Sufferers." Col. W. E. Anderson then rose and explained the object of the meeting. He drew a graphic picture of the sufferings of the stricken ones, and of the pressing need for aid being promptly extended.

On motion it was unanimously resolved that an Executive Committee be chosen, to consist of four ladies from each denomination in the city. The following ladies were chosen to represent the various congregations:

Salisbury Street Baptist: Mrs. A. M. Lewis, Mrs. T. H. Pritchard, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. J. M. Heck.

Swain Street Baptist: Mrs. N. B. Broughton, Mrs. J. M. Harris, Mrs. Dr. Alston, Miss Carrie Wilson.

Christ Church: Mrs. W. R. Cox, Mrs. Speight, Mrs. Wm. Little, Miss Adelaide Boylan.

Church of the Good Shepherd: Mrs. R. H. Battle, Jr., Mrs. T. N. Jones, Mrs. McMackin, Mrs. J. B. Batchelor.

Edenton Street Methodist: Mrs. Charles H. Belvin, Mrs. Q. Busbee, Mrs. D. C. Murray, Mrs. Bettie Mills.

Person Street Methodist: Mrs. M. L. Jenkins, Mrs. R. W. Belo, Mrs. V. Ballard, Miss Amelia Woodward.

Hebrew Aid Association: Mrs. H. Mahler, Mrs. M. Rosenbaum, Mrs. I. Oettinger, Mrs. M. Grausman.

St. John's, Catholic: Mrs. Ferrall, Mrs. William Grimes, Miss Nellie Manly, Mrs. E. F. Page.

First Presbyterian: Mrs. W. S. Primrose, Mrs. L. D. Heartt, Mrs. Geo. C. Jordan, Mrs. B. W. Starke.

Second Presbyterian: Mrs. J. M. Atkinson, Mrs. Fred. A. Olds, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Kingsley.

On motion the above Executive Committee was entrusted with the care of all the arrangements, and it was left to their discretion as to the best and most advisable means of securing aid. The meeting then adjourned.

After the adjournment of this meeting, the Executive Committee was called to order by the President, Mrs. John G. Williams, when, after considerable discussion, in which all participated, it was resolved (as it seemed to be the desire of a majority in the primary meeting to have a dime party) to have it on Friday evening and in the capital square provided the consent of the proper authorities can be gained and the weather be propitious.

It was also decided that the ladies of the Executive Committee should canvass the town to-morrow to receive contributions of money or supplies, and meet to report and for further consultation on Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m. Money to be donated can be handed either to the committee or to Messrs. W E. Anderson and W. S. Primrose.

The Board of Justices.

The magistrates of this county met at Metropolitan Hall yesterday. M. C. Whiteley, Esq., presided as chairman. J. D. Ballentine as Secretary. A quorum being present, the meeting proceeded to business. It was recommended to the Board of County Commissioners to pay the Registrars at the last election four cents per name extra. The following is the list of Registrars and poll-holders appointed, there being one of the former and four of the latter in each township:

Fifth Ward—C D Heartt; poll holders; B B Betts, C W Lambeth, W P Wetherell, J R O'Neill.

Outside Corporation—J D Pullen; poll holders: A H Temple, W R Gales, Frank Menninger, John Flagg.

After the adjournment of the Board of Magistrates, the County Commissioners now in office came into the Hall, and a joint meeting was held.

THE JOINT MEETING.

The county Treasurer was authorized to negotiate a loan of $3,500, for payment of county expenses to December next. The interest of this, not to exceed 8 per cent. The Board of County Commissioners were authorized to let out by contract the building of a bridge, and the opening of a road at W R Pool's mill, on Neuse River. The joint meeting then adjourned.

——The Raleigh Light Infantry parades next Tuesday.

County Commissioners Meeting.

A special meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held yesterday. Present: J. J. Ferrell, Chairman, J. R. Whitaker, J. P. Massey, J. O. Harrison and G. A. Keith. Chas. D. Upchurch, Superior Court Clerk elect, appeared before the Board and tendered his official bond, with the following justified sureties: W. C. Upchurch, $2,000; Alfred Upchurch, $4,000; P. C. Walker, $4,000. The sureties having justified before the Register of Deeds, on motion the bond was approved. Mr. Upchurch came forward and took the prescribed oath, and the bond was ordered to be recorded and filed. John B. Neathery, Treasurer elect, appeared before the Board. The oath of office was administered to him by the Chairman. W. W. White, Register of Deeds elect and present incumbent, appeared and took the oath of office. J. J. Nowell, Sheriff-elect, appeared and took the oath of office.

It was ordered that the County Treasurer pay D. A. Ray $5.60 for services in laying off a new road from Jack Robinson's to Neuse river, and that Joseph Fish be paid $166.50, for building a bridge across Middle Creek, on the Fayetteville road.

Ordered that J. W. Pegram, David H. Adams, and J. J. Perry be appointed a committee to let out the building of a bridge across Black Creek, on the road leading from Smithfield to Fayetteville, and report to this Board for approval.

D. H. Adams was appointed constable in Panther Branch township in the place of Bythan Stephenson, resigned.

Ordered that County Treasurer pay Jack Evans twelve dollars for removing rafts from Tucker's Bridge across Crabtree creek, for twelve months from December 1877.

Thos. Allen was relieved from paying poll tax $2.52, on account of mental infirmity, and William Davis from working public road, on account of physical disabilities.

W. R. Richardson, Coroner elect, appeared before the Board and took the prescribed oath of office.

Criminal Court.

Yesterday the Criminal Court of this county opened, Judge Strong presiding.

The following cases were disposed of, viz:

State vs. Willis Trice, affray; submission; judgment $5 fine and costs.

State vs. Willis Trice and Thos. Brown, sci fa; judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs. J. H. Roberts and J. H. Mitchell, affray; submission as to Mitchell; judgment reserved.

State and Ephraim Alston vs. Jacob Etheridge et al., peace warrant; dismissed at cost of defendant Etheridge.

State vs. Jake Moore, assault and battery; submission; judgment $5 fine and costs.

State vs John H. Smith and Eliza J. Smith, larceny and receiving; verdict, guilty; judgment reserved.

State vs P. M. Mangum and Jordan Bailey, larceny. Pending the consideration of this case the Court adjourned until to-day at 10 o'clock.

The Graded School.

This great educational institution opened its doors yesterday morning. The rosy faced juveniles, of both sexes, soon began to throng its precincts and were duly welcomed by the principal and the corps of teachers. Up to the hour of noon, 318 scholars had been enrolled. There is every probability of a far larger number applying.

The Old Dominion.

Virginia, the Mother of the States, produces many choice things and rare, but among the finest of the thousand products of her fertile soil is tobacco. Known all over the world as the finest, the tobaccos of that State are ever in demand. Aware of their excellence, the manufacturers of Egerton's Snuff use only Old Dominion Tobacco, the purest and best. The agent for this solace here is Mr. W. H. Dodd, corner Wilmington and Martin streets. *

Messrs. M. T. Norris & Co.

The fall announcement of this live, energetic, progressive firm of grocers, cotton and commission merchants, is published. M. T. Norris, Esq., the active member of the firm, has been successfully engaged in traffic in this city since 1870, and has built up a deservedly high reputation as a merchant of standing and a well informed and reliable dealer in cotton. The firm ranks among the best, and can be relied upon for fair dealing. Mr. Norris leaves this morning for a Northern trip, to lay in supplies for the fall trade.

When we Demoralize the Stomach.

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion must succumb to abuses of that important function. But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant of the age. The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia, and the a most invariably attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy when if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint. sept 3-d6tw1t.

JONES' BAKING POWDER

FOR SALE BY ALL GROCERS.

We ask all cooks, housewives, and the general public to give our goods an impartial trial. This Powder is carefully prepared upon scientific principles—the result of long and careful experiments and tests in chemistry. In its proportions and compounding, it is the perfection of science, and is recommended by the leading Chemists in the United States, whose certificates we have. It is perfectly pure and wholesome, and saves time, labor and money to every consumer. It stands Unrivaled: we challenge the world to produce better, purer and more wholesome goods.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE USED:

A BARREL OF FLOUR MAKES ABOUT 40 POUNDS MORE BREAD
IT NEVER FAILS AND ALWAYS PLEASES THE CONSUMER.
IT IS THE PERFECTION OF SCIENCE IN COOKERY.
IT IS A COMFORT FOR EVERY HOME.
YOUR BREAD WILL NEVER BE SOUR.
YOUR FOOD WILL BE THE BEST.
YOUR BREAD WILL BE WHITER AND RICHER.
YOUR HEALTH WILL BE PRESERVED BY ITS PURITY.

WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE

We do most earnestly caution consumers of Baking Powder against using adulterated and cheap goods, as no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours.

An analysis of the cheap clap-trap spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fit to use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because offered cheap by unscrupulous manufacturers. We caution those who value health, and appreciate good, wholesome living to buy Jones' Pure Baking Powder. Jones' Unrivaled is such. It is an established article through the West and South, and is recommended by the highest authority for Purity and Strength.

All first-class storekeepers have it because it is pure and can be relied upon, and do credit to their stock.

Merchants are authorized to warrant our goods where directions are followed.

Our statements are correct and are backed by chemists of note and experience, and we hold ourselves ready to prove our assertions.

We are offering goods of undoubted purity, which are in their compounding, as we claim "UNRIVALED."

BEAUTY:

OR THE

Secret of a Fair Face

AN ITEM OF INTREST TO EVERY LADY WHO DESIRES TO BE MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN SHE NOW IS.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion.

It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner.

It removes all roughness eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power.

It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.

It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.

Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store
